

to whom it may concern:

I am a flight attendant who is concerned about the possibility of allowing cell phones in flight. I think it would be dangerous for hijackers to have access to phones in flight because it would make it easier for them to communicate with one another while onboard. I also think it is a further interruption and distraction when passengers need to hear important announcements from crew members. Not to mention the annoyance factor of sitting next to someone or in the middle of two people jabbering away for hours while you are trying to relax and enjoy the flight.
